

ACADEMIC DEPARTMENTS

Effective July 1, the Teaching, Learning, and Student Success (TLSS) division of Frederick Community College will be organized into four schools and career communities within each school - School of Arts and Humanities (<https://frederick-public.courseleaf.com/academic-departments/arts-humanities/>); School of Biological, Physical, and Health Sciences (<https://frederick-public.courseleaf.com/academic-departments/biological-physical-healthsciences/>); School of Public Service, Social Sciences, and Education (<https://frederick-public.courseleaf.com/academic-departments/publicservice-socialsciences-education/>); and School of Technology, Trades, Business, and Hospitality (<https://frederick-public.courseleaf.com/academic-departments/technology-trades-business-hospitality/>), as well as Continuing Education & Workforce Development (<https://frederick-public.courseleaf.com/academic-departments/cewd-academic-programs/>), which will oversee the College's academic programs.